College Workshop Topics With Training

Who we are

You must never stop learning and age should never be given as a reason to have stopped learning or aiming higher. We, at Bitzburg Education, believe in ever lasting learning and training that not just brushes up skills but also adds value to a student's career.

It's a common sight to see students nervously making career choices because they do not know what to do with their degrees, leave alone setting up future goals. Our trained and certified professionals help train such graduates and mould them into tech-crazy individuals who are not just confident about their future but also have a clear idea of what they aspire to achieve.

Our training programs include practical exposure to application development and experimenting of technologies recently learnt. We also offer personality development to enable fresher's face interviews with more confidence.

Vision

Bitzburg Education aims at offering quality training to college students and fresh graduates. Our team aspires to build tech-loving students who are proficient in whatever they learn from our institute.

What Can You Expect From Us

From In house training to onsite workshops, Bitzburg Education offers a range of courses to college students and immediate graduates alike. Here's a list of defined and dedicate training courses that we offer at the moment

Addon Courses for Colleges

All colleges usually suggest a huge range of syllabuses each semester; it is crucial that you don't miss out on the major courses that will ultimately help you craft your future. Trainers at Bitzburg Education put aside important Addon courses that are both important as well as mandatory for freshers. The addon courses offered include

- Web Design and Development
- Graphic Designing
- Digital Marketing
- College Workshop

Bitzburg Education also engages in onsite workshops for engineering colleges. Whether it is an android app development class or a demonstration of writing a code for a drone, our trainers handle it all. You just have to connect with our trainers and explain your requirement. Our workshop deliverables include web designing development, graphic designing and android training. So if it is an android app development workshop that you want us to organize then rest assured of the following takeaways towards the end of the workshop

Benefits

- You will have learnt to design the frontend and backend of the app framework
- You will be proficient in developing your own application
- Our workshops are best suited for college students with All Degree Programs of Engg, and Arts and Science.

Professional Training at Our Centre Exclusively

Apart from training graduates within their college premises, we also take up extra training classes at the time most convenient to the students concerned. We organize special classes for students based on their requirement and make weekly slots available for them to learn and experiment with new technologies. Our training center in Nagercoil is open on all the days of a week, hence it is up to you to decide the time and day of the week you would like to dedicate something new and relevant.
